WALLINGFORD.

New Year's passed very quietly here, with nothing startling out of the usual run of affairs. The trotters were out on Main street and several lively scraps were the result. Charlie Smart of Meriden had a flyer, which showed up finely and as a general thing was well in front at the finish. At Company K's armory the rifles were cracking all day and up to 8 o'clock in the evening no one had succeeded in making a clean score of bulls-eyes, although Captain Barber, Lieutenant Norton J. J. Covey, David Ross and Fred Blake had made 24, which showed four bulls-eyes and one 4. Barber, Norton and Ross were tied for first place, as each finished with four bulls-eyes. There were several who scored 23 and 22, and any under that score stood very poor chances of a prize. In shooting off Z.

P. Beach defeated Davis by scoring 23 to 22.

The Higgins & Rogers company's works are closed for two weeks.

A. B. Pixley had a poor day yesterday, his condition not being as favorable.

Miss Kate Backes is recovering from an attack of illness.

Will Goodrich is confined to his home by illness.

A. W. Partridge has a new addition to his family. Twins—boys.

Horace S. Williams is cutting ten-ch ice from his pond in East Wallingford.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Van Tassel celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage New Year's eve and entertained friends.

Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Gushue started yesterday for California.

Sam Hubbard returns to Wilbraham to-day and Walter Wildman to Trinity college.

Mrs. Arthur H. Whiton entertained her friends at her pleasant home on East Center street last evening.

Commander M. W. Tuttle will install the officers of H. C. Mason post, G.
A. R. in New Haven this evening.

J. P. Stevenson was at the lake yesterday looking over and stinging up the chances for a half-mile trotting course.

The ice is thick enough, but is most too rough at the south end of the course.

There was quite a crowd enjoying the fine skating on the lake yesterday.

Uptown parties can take the electric cars and get off on the west side, just south of the turnout, and have only a short walk over to the smooth ice. The iceboat will be out to-day if the wind is favorable.

The H. L. Judd company's works are closed for two weeks.

The schools open again this morning.

The installation of the officers of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. on Friday evening will be a joint, but not public, installation. Mrs. Harriet J. Dodge, of Hartford, past national chaplain, will install the W. R. C. officers. Past Commander Belden will officiate as installing officer for the G. A. R. The members are requested to bring along refreshments.

The Misses Edith Turner, Jennie Campbell, Daisy Allen and Edith Cook have returned from Washington D. C., and report a very pleasant trip.

B. F. Luby left his horse for a minute alone yesterday and the animal started on its own hook and was finally stopped near North Haven and returned without any serious damage.

Mysteries of the Fair: Girl Explained.

There are many tricks in the repertoire of the so called electric or magnetic girl, all of which seem, at first sight, to involve either the possession of supernatural strength or else some occult power. As a matter of fact, however, they involve neither. The strangest part of them is that they are all within the battery of any one to perform. Furthermore it will be found that the very mechanical laws which these tricks appear to set at defiance are the ones upon which they depend for their success, and the chief reason why they have remained mysteries to those who have witnessed them is that they have not tried to repeat them themselves upon the first opportunity afforded.

Let us take the first mentioned, namely, that of lifting a heavy person in the chair. Tell him to sit down and hold the chair against all your efforts.
He will plant his feet firmly on the floor, thus throwing his weight chiefly on his feet, instead of on the chair, at he thinks he is doing. If you are in doubt of this, try it yourself, and you will realize that it is a fact. To move the person, all that the girl has to do is to get behind and push. In the apparent position which she assumes, she will obtain a considerable purchase by bracing her arms on her knees, and will thus have no difficulty in raising the chair slightly. As the sitter assumes a new position, so as to more successfully resist this effort on the part of the girl, she suddenly relaxes her push, directing the chair off to one side or the other.
Before the sitter has recovered himself she has raised the chair again, and he is allowed to throw himself again, and so on; the stronger he is and the more he opposes or strives to oppose her, the worse he is off and the more successful she will be. The trick is more effective if three men try to hold the chair down, because of their divided effort and the tendency, where more than one is opposing her, for them really to oppose each other, rather than her. She will be perfectly powerless, however, should even a single person sit listlessly in the chair, with no thought of opposition.—N. W. Perry in Cassier's.

Famous Rogue Elephants.

The complete history of rogue elephants would make an interesting chapter. They seem to have decided to avenge man's wrongs against their kind. Some years ago one rogue actually took possession of a stretch of country in India forty miles wide by one hundred long, and in a business-like way proceeded to demolish everything in or about it. The animal rushed into the villages, took huts upon its tusks and tore them apart, or tossed them until they fell into splinters. It chased the people away or killed them whenever it could, or, standing by the wrecked houses, it ate the grains and stores.

This elephant seemed remarkably intelligent. It entertained, in particular, a grudge against the watch towers or scallops. Whenever this rogue saw one, he would creep slyly, spring at it, push it to the ground, and kill
